

CITY ITEMS.

Amusements This Evening.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE—Miss Elmore in La Rue's Daughter. The Spectre.

MARION HALL—La Rue's Great War Show.

STATE MUSEUM—Kinder's Clock, East Washington street. Open day and night.

The most inexorable task-master—duy.

The greatest shame—the victim of intolerance.

The noblest enfranchisement—the freedom of opinion.

The lubricator that oils the wheels of progress—Industry.

A field for distinction—Several of the streets of this city. Will the Street Commissioner take notice?

The exchanges from every quarter are freighted with the lamentations of the local editors about a dearth of local news.

The Headquarters in Indiana for Fancy and Staple Dry goods is the New York Store, W. & H. Glen proprietors, Glenn's Block, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Quite a large revenue is being derived from the liquor licenses, for the benefit of the school fund. This is a good purpose advanced by a denominated tax.

Three Courts of Justice are now in session within the limits of the city. Surely crime and dishonesty will have to yield to the majesty of the "Ermine."

Mr. J. E. Murdoch, the distinguished actor, scholar and patriot, is in the third week of a highly successful engagement at Pike's Opera House at Cincinnati.

There are sixteen thousand more males than females within the State, between the ages of five and twenty-one years. In Massachusetts the surplus is all the other way.

Some of the petty thieves of the city are turning their attention to the superlatively small business of stealing clothes off the wash lines at night. If this is not petit larceny, we have never yet heard of a case that was.

Marion Hall—To-night the panoramic exhibition or La Rue's Great War Show will open; also on Thursday and Friday nights. The exhibition possesses merit that calls for a hearty patronage from our people and will receive it.

We are informed that a petition is being circulated in the city, by the colored people, to which the signatures of white citizens are being procured, praying the Legislature to enfranchise the blacks of Indiana.

We observe that Brig. Gen. T. G. Pitcher, the Commander of the United States Forces for this District, has removed his headquarters to A. V. Lawrence's new building, No. 173 West Washington street.

Mr. R. A. Campbell, publisher of new and standard subscription books, and dealer in portraits, No. 46 East Washington street, has our acknowledgements for a handsome steel plate, large sized, likeness of Lieutenant General Grant. It is not less accurate than artistic.

The Directors of the Indianapolis and White River Steamboat Company have had the steamer Governor Morton hauled up for repairs. The old wheels have been taken off and are being replaced by new ones. She will be ready, we are informed by the Directors, for a trip to Waverly in about three weeks. Success, we say, to the cosy steamer.

"The Homestead," an institution for the education of young ladies, will open on Monday, the 13th inst. Weekly boarders and day scholars will be received. It will be under the charge of Mrs. Herbert, who has an enviable reputation in educational circles. The location is desirable, being on East Market street, at the old residence of Governor Noble.

By Mr. Richard Duncan, the chief operator of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in this city, we were shown through the Company's rooms in their new office in Blackford's Block. The reputation of the Company for efficiency, even in their former contracted quarters, we believe was without reproach. What may we not expect now with their increased facilities.

There will be a meeting of the "Western Base Ball Club" to-night, at the Club Rooms, over the "House of Lords." The members are requested to be there in full attendance for the purpose of transacting important business. The home and home game between the "Military Nine" and the first nine of the Western Base Ball Club will be played on to-morrow. By order of the Secretary.

The theatrical circle of the Journal should extend his classical researches at the first favorable opportunity. It does not look well for him to say that the comedy of "She Stoops to Conquer" was written by Sheridan Knowles, when almost every school boy knows that such is not the case. Besides, poor Oliver Goldsmith had a hard enough time while living, and we protest against any detractor from his well-earned fame since dead.

Jack Frost does not seem to effect emigration Westward very much. Not a day passes but emigrant trains, bound for the prairies or the mining regions of the Great West, pass through our city. In one train yesterday we noticed a car, something like those used by traveling daguerotypists, with a store in it, mounted on four wheels and filled with women and children, who could be seen through the glass windows which adorned each side.

Hotels—Habitual scolds have had much to say about the inadequate hotel accommodations of this city. A sycophantic man can always find something to complain about, and like "Saul Stearns," the Clipper man, who advertises to write "songs on any given subject and on short notice," can get up a first class diatribe, ill-natured growl on any given subject whenever his peevish little soul sees fit.

We propose to stand up boldly for the general reputation of our hotels, and while we are on this subject we wish to assure those who like a good meal and accommodating attention that the "Macy House," corner of Illinois and Market streets, is surpassed by no house we know of in all the fine points of gastronomic excellence. What Mrs. Penitence does not have on their daily boards is not worth having, and what our friend Mr. F. T. Palmer does not know about accommodations and attentions is not worth knowing. Drop in and satisfy yourself, and hold us responsible for this statement.

It is affirmed by the physicians that the cholera will probably gain a foothold in this country by December, and may break out in the form of an epidemic by spring. Will our City Council see to it that our streets and alleys are put in that condition of cleanliness that they will not offer temptations to the dread visitant to come this way? The public welfare demands that the city be put in the best possible condition to resist the scourge which has left desolation in its wake wherever he has appeared.

Licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors were yesterday issued by the Auditor, as follows: R. Reimann, Henry Burk, David C. Dwyer, E. K. Farrell, George F. Franzen, Delbert H. Eare, Ward D. Moseman, James J. Lynch, John Cusick, George M. Dulch, Scott, Burgess & Co., (Sherman House).

These licenses that were ordered by the Board at their session of October 6th. Parties who had licenses ordered at that time would do well to call on the Auditor at once.

The driver of Express Wagon No. 60 was yesterday guilty of committing such an innovation on the old time practice of Jehus and equestrians in this city, that we deem it worthy of special notice. A little girl, yesterday afternoon, was tripping home from school, and while crossing Washington street on Pennsylvania street, she fell down. The driver immediately stopped his team, and waited till the little girl could get up and get out of the way, instead of driving along at a breakneck gait, and heedless of consequences, as has become the custom in this city. The public will please remember Express Wagon No. 60, for it's driver is a safe man.

The trial of James S. Stevens, a policeman of this city, for malfeasance, took place a called meeting of the City Council, last evening.

The charge against Stevens was that he had been guilty of extorting money from a woman of abandoned character, under the threat that he would arrest her if she did not comply with his demand. There were two specifications under this charge.

After a full hearing of the evidence in the case, and a consideration of the facts by the Council, the accused was discharged, the evidence being not sufficient to sustain the charge.

Mr. Stevens was defended by Evan W. Kimball, Esq.

In a place can they be more properly appreciated than at places of amusement. The boisterous, yelling, whistling and stamping in which they indulge are exceedingly trying on one's nerves, and in many cases spoil the effect of the entire performance. In addition to this, there is always one or more of them ready to put in some slang remark just at the wrong place, if there ever is a remark for such language. In the most affecting part of a tragedy you will be apt to hear from these graceless scamps some exclamation so ridiculous and vulgar as to spoil the effect completely, especially when it is coupled with outrageous guffaw and boisterous conduct. Wouldn't it be a good idea to station policemen, with long, keen hickory switches, within convenient distance of these rowdies, with instructions to "lay on, McDuff, and d—be he who first cries, hold! enough!" What say the managers of our public halls?

The large Government train which passed through our city not long since, en route for Fort Leavenworth, and which camped near Stringtown for several days, has been disbanded at Springfield, Illinois, and the horses, mules, wagons, &c., sold, and the teamsters discharged, by order from the War Department. The remaining pigs, chickens, pigs, turkeys, &c., of Stringtown, will doubtless rejoice when they hear this bit of intelligence.

The negroes belonging to the train, some two hundred and fifty in number, consider themselves sold also. By some failure in making out the rolls for payment, they did not receive transportation to the place where they originally enlisted. The consequence was, they raised a row, but failed to find any one to vent their wrath upon. At last accounts they had thrown themselves upon their individual rights (without injury, however), and were lounging around the town and vicinity, quarreling, drinking and stealing, to the disgust of even the old rights men of that section.

LAW REPORT.

Supreme Court of Indiana—November Term. One Hundred and Forty-eighth Day.—Robert Ducks vs. Thomas W. Abbott—Deborah O. C. Reversed.

Peter McGinnis vs. The State of Indiana—Vanderburg C. P. Affirmed.

City of Indianapolis vs. Sturdevant—Marion C. C. Affirmed.

Morris Jenness vs. Sarah B. Jenness—Miami C. C. Affirmed, with one per cent. damages.

United States District Court—First Day.—Judges Davis and McDonald present.

The Grand Jury was empaneled and sworn. Judge McDonald delivered an elaborate charge to the Jury, after which the Court adjourned until to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The following are the names of the Grand Jurors:

T. C. Phillips, Foreman, John E. Hughes, W. C. Emerson, Hugh Hanna, C. Helm, Henry McCune, John McCrell, John Warnock, Robert A. Hamilton, William Barnett, Edwin S. Organ, David T. Hames, R. D. Brown, George W. Wood, Oscar Kendrick, James Blake, O. P. Ludlow, J. H. Cook and Jefferson Helm.

Circuit Court—Criminal Docket—The State vs. Albert Pearle, grand larceny, concluded from yesterday; guilty, and sentenced to two years' confinement in the penitentiary. W. W. Leathers, Circuit Prosecutor for the State; S. A. Colley for defendant.

The State vs. Adolphus Marcus, grand larceny; guilty; three years in the penitentiary. Leathers for the State; Perrin & Manlove for the defendant.

The State vs. Charlotte F. King, bigamy some time ago. The defendant married a man named King, who subsequently enlisted and went to war. During his absence she married another man named Doll. Defendant pleads that she applied for a divorce from Doll, which the attorney told her had been granted by the Court. The evidence does not show this to be the case. Evidence and argument concluded and the case in the hands of the jury. Leathers for the State; Gordon and Colley for defendant.

Common Pleas Court—Civil Docket—McCord et al. vs. Bond still in progress.

U. S. Commissioner's Court—Before Eben W. Kimball, commissioner.

Nov. 6. A. J. Smith was up on charge of selling liquors without a license. There were two complainants in the case. He was bound over to trial before the U. S. District Court.

Nov. 7. Henry Shrimp was charged with offering counterfeit money to the establishment of Merrill & Coyne, in payment for something he had been purchasing. The evidence was insufficient to operate a conviction and he was discharged.

AMUSEMENTS.

METROPOLITAN THEATRE—A very fair house greeted the second appearance of Miss DeLaur, on last night. That the audience was pleased and entertained was apparent from the frequent applause and from the ill-concealed attempts to suppress laughter. The comedy of the "Unequal Match" was well rendered throughout, after which the afterpiece of "To Paris and Back for Five Pounds" was given by the stock company.

To-night Miss DeLaur will appear as "Widow O'Heery," in the "Soldier's Daughter." This piece will afford the audience an opportunity to hear her as a vocalist as well as an actress, as she appears in a song during the piece. The amusing farce of "The Spectre" is the after-piece.

La Rue's Great War Show—This remarkable and novel entertainment, combining pictorial with mechanical illustrations of the great contest now raging between the North and the South opens at Marion Hall this evening. It is certainly the most striking and thrilling entertainment that has ever visited this city. The number and variety of scenes, the thousands of moving mechanical figures, the vivid grouping of startling incidents, and the admirable and accurate imitations by mechanism of battle, storm and shipwreck, combine to render this exhibition the grandest and most fascinating we have ever beheld.

Its countless novelties, its marvelous imitations of nature and art, the illusions which deceive the eye and ear, and the beautifully painted scenery, render the Stratopastion worthy the patronage of the refined and educated. Mr. La Rue's comic impersonations and berlesque lectures keep the audience in a continual roar of laughter, and form not the least pleasing portion of the entertainment, which, take it all in all, is the most popular and successful ever brought to this city. The entertainment will be given to-night for the first time, and standing room no doubt will be at a premium.

MAYOR'S COURT—Yesterday was a busy day before His Honor, the Mayor, and the following are the offenders and the offences:

INTOXICATION.

John McLaughlin was an offender under this head, and was fined $30. "John" had but $1.75, which he paid into the remorseless jaws of the Court and went to jail for ten days for the remainder.

John Welch became enthused to an inordinate extent and was fined $30. This unfortunate and rash fancy man had a "balance on hand" of cash to the precise and accurate amount of $3.70 which he paid in part cancellation of his fine. The remaining $5.20 John will serve out in jail for ten days.

James Green got drunk—had no money—was fined $30 and went to jail for ten days.

Enoch McColey got drunk and made himself ridiculous, as well as offensive. The Court fined him $30. Patrick had spent all his money and had not the "dollar or two" necessary to procure immunity from incarceration. He, therefore, went to jail for ten days.

John Jones didn't stop drinking when he had enough, but kept on until he passed the point of sobriety. He was adjudged to have infringed the law to the extent of $30. John was equal to the demands of the occasion, and paid his fine in full.

Samuel Mallen got drunk, and was brought to grief for his deviation. He was fined the invariable $30—couldn't see the draft on him; paid all he had, i. e. $2, and went to jail for ten days for the remainder.

DRIVING ACROSS THE SIDEWALK.

James Russell, James Hill and Thomas Marshall were each fined to the extent of $12 for the commission of this offense. Hill paid in full. Russell and Marshall went to jail for twenty days each.

DRIVING ACROSS THE SIDEWALK.

John Grainer was proven guilty of this offense. He was fined $7.40 for the same. His pocket-book was empty, and he went to jail for ten days.

EXPRESSING FORCE FOR SALE.

Was the offense of Arthur Gentile. He was informed that "Gentile," no less than "Jew," was accountable to the city for the way he deported himself. He was fined $4.76, and the profits from his fish not being adequate, he went to jail.

REPORTING FILTH IN AN ALLEY.

Was what William Bunker was filthy enough to do. His "offense was rank," and he was fined $7.40. William paid the fine.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

See Dr. Wm. Thomson's advertisement on the fourth page of to-day's paper.

Whist the city improves generally. Massachusetts Avenue keeps ahead, as we notice the "Capital Drug Store," at the corner of Vermont street, has been greatly enlarged, and is now one of our first-class drug stores in every respect.

"We live for what we can eat and wear" is a popular philosophy. Heikam's, Merchant Tailor, No. 27 North Illinois street, is the fashionable resort in this city for the external man—and fits up mankind with all the decorations that make man's appearance attractive. 4-6

If you want a Beautiful French Patent Leather Boot, one that will fit your foot perfectly, and always keep in shape, leave your order with A. Lintz, at No. 39 West Washington street. He has in his employ men who make this branch a specialty, and the work now made in this city is the best made anywhere in the United States. 7-2

William Snyder & Co., No. 21 South Meridian street, wholesale and retail dealers in Stambury & Walker's Fresh Canned and Shell Oysters. Fresh Fish received daily. City and country orders filled promptly, and as cheap as the cheapest. Orders from country towns and railroad stations sent out by the earliest trains leaving Indianapolis. 6-6

It is a fact not to be disputed by any sensible person that Ludington, Cady & Co., have the handsomest stock and styles of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Polish Boots in this city. Fresh as well as good quality, they have hand-some, better and better fitting French Calf Boots, for Gent's than are offered by any other house in this city. 6-3

Whoever has not called upon Florence, corner Meridian and Market streets, should do so to-day, or at his first opportunity. He has the largest Billiard Hall in the city, containing Fourteen Tables, and in connection with the same is Reading Room, and a first-class Saloon, for gentlemen only, not rowdies. And here are also to be had Fresh Shell Oysters, the like of which we challenge competition to excel. They are prepared in the very best style of art, and in every style, by a French colored cook, formerly of the Fair House, and engaged expressly for the purpose. 8-1

Merchants Tailoring—Schultz & Folz.—Competition always fosters excellence, and in such cases the most energetic and skillful in their branch of the business beat away the competition. Schultz & Folz, at No. 31, North Pennsylvania street, have long enjoyed the pre-eminence in the city as Merchant Tailors. On nearly all the well-dressed men of the city—and their number is legion—you can recognize Louis Schultz's sign manual, i. e., an unexceptionable fit, the latest style and the best material in the market. 6-3

We would respectfully solicit our friends and patrons to call and look at their accounts, and for convenience of the same, T. E. Holbrook, Esq., will be at the office during business hours, and is authorized to receipt in our name. JAMESON & FENKHOESER. 443 1/2 N. W. 19 South Meridian Street.

A GOOD CHANCE FOR INTEREST—A large quantity of unredeemed pledges for sale very cheap at the Pawnbrokers, 185 East Washington street. Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Musical Instruments, Sewing Machines, Purses, also, 5,000 Fine White Double and Single Blankets; 7,000 large and small Red Spread; a large quantity of Pillow Bags, which must be disposed of in a short time. Persons wishing bargains in Red Clothing should call soon, as they will be sold without reserve, either at Wholesale or Retail. 4-6

For Sale, to Pay Advances—at the Loan Office, No. 51 South Illinois street, a large lot of new and second-hand Clothing, such as fine Dress Coats, Overcoats, Pants, Vests, Shawls, also, a fine lot of Silk Dresses for Ladies, half price; also, Ladies' Gold Watches and Chains, Rings, Pins, Diamonds and a variety of articles of every description. All will be sold to pay advances. Call in and examine. H. M. BUSH. No. 51, on the corner of South Illinois and Maryland streets. 5-30

THREE HAUTE AND INDIANAPOLIS RAILROAD—CHANGE OF TIME—On and after Monday, Nov. 6th, the time of this route will be changed as follows:

Westward, Leave—8:15 A. M., St. Louis Mail; 12:35 P. M., St. Louis Express; 3:10 P. M., Terre Haute Mail; 9:10 P. M., Night Express.

Eastward, Arrive—3:45 A. M., Eastern Express; 10:40 A. M., Terre Haute Accommodation; 6:40 P. M., Evansville Mail; 7:15 P. M., St. Louis Express.
